From the newsletter folks...

Jim and Sally Cooper

Well, it's December and it's time to greet the New Year!! Is it just me or does time seem to be moving faster nowadays?

Everyone should have their ballots now and hopefully they are on their way back to Terry to be counted. No hanging chads in this election!

Don't forget that the end-of-the year banquet is coming up on January 8th. You'll want to be there to welcome the new officers and wish them luck for 2005! Again, there is a flyer on the web site that contains all of the details. Any questions about the banquet can be directed to Cheryl Rohrbough.

We have a bunch of great-looking items in the "For Sale" area of the newsletter this month. Please, please, please let us know when the items sell so that we can remove them from the list! Thanks!

Cheers,
Jim

Happy
New Year!!!!

HEADS or TALES?

Jim and Nancy Garboden- aka DUCKVETT

Thanks to BSCC for the gift certificate to Michael's Landing received for the winning entry to name its newsletter. As you can imagine living in Duckville, several ideas came to mind that had to be trashed. But once you sit down and think about it, what do Ducks and Beavers have in common? Water, plenty of that in the Willamette Valley, enough to share. Corvettes, plenty of those in the Willamette Valley, but some we still haven't convinced to join this fraternity. Fellowship, plenty to go around but always room for more.

Ducks and Beavers can co-exist EXCEPT during contests with each other. It is good to know however that neither is the natural enemy of the other and really pose little or no physical harm. Just as it is in nature, they strive to be the top of the food chain and will probably continue to do so as long as there is fuel left in the tank.

YOU ARE MOST LIKELY A CORVETTE OWNER I F... ..

(reprinted from the Corvette Forum, language borrowed from Jeff Foxworthy)

If you've ever bought a piece of clothing to "match the car."

If your car is 26 years old and you find out that it still has the original fuel filter, and you're HAPPY!

If you know the exact DATE which your car was built but forget your wife/ girlfriend's birthday.

If you know that "Corvette" is a small French ship known for its maneuverability.

If you have 100% cotton towels for your car and you use old, worn-out ones in your bathroom.

If, instead of your spouse, you carry a picture of your car in your wallet.

You hang pictures of Vettes in your garage so she's not lonely.

If you've actually had a momentary twinge of worry at night, when you turn out the light in the garage, about leaving your 'Vette alone in the dark.

You spend more time vacuuming the 20 square feet of carpet in your Vette than your 2000 square foot house.

... Feel that you must scrub the underside, you never know, some mechanic may get the wrong impression of you if it's dirty.

... Find yourself looking at your reflection in large plate glass as you drive by.

... If a bird craps on it, you stop turn around and go home to clean it off.

... You order a build sheet for your Vette even though you have no idea what it means.

... You find it necessary to keep pressing that little button that goes between oil temp/water temp/fuel avg./etc.

... Even though you've never changed oil in any car you've ever owned, you want to do it on your Vette because nobody else knows how...

... You go to the drug store to buy cotton swabs for your car instead of your ears.

... You cause traffic jams as you maneuver your Vette around a puddle of water in the street.

If nobody under the age of 30 is allowed in your garage.

If the weatherman predicts rain and you are VISIBLY upset.

... You flip through every page of Eckler's, Mid-America and Corvette Center every month even though they have the same parts every month.

... You look at parts for C1s, C2s, C4s, and C5s even though your car is a C3.

... "Ooo" and "Ahh" over another Vette, that for all intents and purposes could be your Vettes twin.

... While looking to buy a house, garage space and condition is the first thing you look at.

New Years Day Poker Run and BUNCO Party

We've been invited to join Willamette Valley Corvette Association in a New Year's Day Poker Run that will end up at the Coyle's home in Sodaville where we get to play Bunco! Sounds like fun!!

The plan is to meet up with the group from Salem at the Mervin's parking lot in Albany. We'll be leaving there at 1:30 with four cards for the cruise to the Coyle's home. For this cruise, legal tender will be "State Quarters". A State Quarter will buy you an additional card and you may buy as many cards as you'd like. A particular State Quarter will receive a special prize. There will be prizes for the games. Please bring whatever you would like to drink and something to share such as chips and dip. (Hors d'oeuvres of any kind or a sweet.)
